Centre hospitalier de Rouffach

In the course of the past years, the cooks at Centre hospitalier in Rouffach (F) did their best to meet the requirements of the employees eating in the self-service restaurant of the 100-year old hospital. The existing kitchen equipment was prone to repairs. Things finally reached the point where resulting repair costs were so high that they were no longer acceptable in terms of economy and quality.

When it came to evaluating new appliances, the operation in Rouffach placed particular importance on quality. In addition, those responsible for the project were clear that the new kitchen facility needed to be operated as easily and efficiently as possible. Moreover, because cooking takes place in an open kitchen, the appliances also had to fulfil – not to be underestimated – aesthetic requirements.

In a public bidding process, ELRO was awarded the job of project realization. With the selection of an ELRO Series 2300 pressure bratt pan and flexi-pan, the needs and objectives of the cooks at Rouffach are now being met perfectly. However: It wasn't that easy! Frédéric Bastianini and his two cooks were not fully convinced of making the right choice until after they visited the ELRO factory in Bremgarten.

F. Bastianini adds, «As a result we are all the more convinced today. The precision in preparation and the quality of our dishes are impressive, appliance programming supports our cooks optimally in the selection and execution of cooking methods, and easy, hygienic cleaning of the appliances is truly a relief in our daily work.»
