ORGANISATION

ENGEL Austria GmbH is the worldwide largest manufacturer of injection moulding machines and a leader in the area of plastics machine engineering. In other words, state-of-the-art technology, innovation and flexibility are key elements in its company philosophy and success. From the Schwertberg, Austria location the company runs a personnel restaurant with two locations, which are supplied from a central kitchen. GO Gaststättenbetriebs GmbH operates the catering business on a management fee basis, and is, in turn, also the responsible for all the kitchen employees.

In looking at the company focus, it's easy to understand why Engel Austria GmbH put the highest value on modern technology when it came to equipping its kitchen facility. Features such as low energy consumption, short production times, longevity and increased quality are just some of the important aspects.

Today the restaurant can prepare the varying offering of soups and main dishes precisely and according to requirements with the ELRO series 2300 pressure bratt pans and the flexi-pan: more easily, in less time, at lower energy consumption and with a significantly higher quality – in short: much more efficiently than in the past.

«Purely technical aspects and efficiency are by no means the only things that count for us. The competent, excellent support we received from ELRO totally convinced us,» adds Johann Mascherbauer.
